

Secondary Behaviour Policy

1. Premise

- These Disciplinary Regulations have been drawn up pursuant to Presidential Decree No. 249/1998, Statute of students, of Presidential Decree No. 235/2007 and subsequent amendments and additions.
- The Regulations were approved by the board of Directors and are an integral part of the Institute Regulations.
- The Institute reserves the right to modify the Regulations at any time, following regulatory innovations, or on the autonomous proposal of the collegial bodies of the school. Any changes must be approved by the board of Directors.

2. Principles and purposes

- The sanctions have an educational and non-punitive purpose and are therefore temporary and imposed, after a careful analysis by the competent bodies, following a criterion of proportionality with respect to the infringement committed and, where possible, switched to alternative and / or socially useful activities.
- Infringements refer to conduct carried out within the Institute or in situations in which supervision is entrusted to the Educational Institution, during the performance of educational and non-educational activities (for example during recreation or canteen, educational trips, etc.);
- Disciplinary sanctions cannot in any way interfere with the evaluation of school subject grades of pupils;
- The repetition of sanctioned conduct constitutes an aggravating circumstance with respect to implementation of new sanctions;
- If the Class Council deems it appropriate, some sanctions may be accompanied by further measures, such as, for example, exclusion from an educational trip.

3. Rights and duties of the student

- The Institute recognizes the fundamental rights of students and requires the fulfilment of the duties that are referred to in Articles 2 and 3 respectively of the Statute of secondary school students (DPR 249/98).

4. General rules

- Students are required to wear the school uniform and to maintain an appearance appropriate to the context. It is therefore necessary to avoid too flashy hairstyles or hair colours, too heavy make-up, excessively long nails;
- For safety reasons, necklaces and earrings that are too large should be avoided, especially when carrying out motor activities;
- It is forbidden to chew gum during lessons;
- When entering and exiting the premises of the Institute, students must maintain adequate behaviour and avoid running or dragging their backpacks heavily;
- The use of mobile phones is prohibited for students, who must therefore place them in special containers at the beginning of the lessons;
- The use of the smartwatch is prohibited.

6. Appeal panel

For more serious measures (suspension, expulsion from the Institute) an appeal is allowed, by the parents of the pupil to the internal appeal panel by and no later than fifteen days from the notification of the provision. The Appeals panel of the Institute consists of the School director, a teacher, an external educator and a representative of the parents and remains in office for three years. The opinion of the Appeal panel is expressed after careful discussion through a secret vote. The resolutions are adopted when the majority of votes is reached, while in the event of a tie the vote of school director is decisive.
